

Coyote Valley Education Department

presents

ROOTED IN STRENGTH: THE LEGACY OF INDIGENOUS WOMEN

MAY 4

11 - 3

Alex
Thomas Plaza

We asked our students, what do the indigenous women in your life mean to you and how has their presence impacted you? Then we asked them to create.

This art showcase honors the resilience, wisdom, and unbreakable spirit of Indigenous women. Through diverse mediums, we explore their powerful presence and the pivotal roles they play within their communities. From the nurturing guardians of tradition to the fierce protectors of culture, each artwork reflects their enduring legacy, stories, and contributions to the world around us. This collection invites viewers to reflect on the sacred bond between Indigenous women and the land, their wisdom passed down through generations, and the deep strength they embody in both times of struggle and triumph.

Join this community event to view a one-day art exhibition honoring Indigenous Women

Call For Submissions

ENTRIES OPEN

APRIL 14 - APRIL 25

FOR OUR EDUCATION CENTER STUDENTS

Please email entries to EDUTH@COYOTEVALLEY-NSN.GOV

Or drop off at Education Campus